Proposition A – SFUSD School Bond on the November Ballot

On Election Day, November 8th, San Franciscans will vote on Proposition A, a $744 million general obligation bond that will fund repairs, and maintenance to San Francisco Unified School District (SFUSD) facilities. The bond would allow SFUSD to construct new schools and make seismic upgrades to existing facilities.

Specifically, Proposition A will:

- Complete seismic safety and modernization projects to make all schools and other district facilities more earthquake safe and energy efficient;
- Build new schools and classrooms to accommodate a growing student population;
- Kick start development of a new SFUSD Arts Center and Ruth Asawa School of the Arts to preserve and promote music and art in curriculum;
- Invest in technology improvements including installing higher-speed Wi-Fi for all classrooms to enable 21st century learning;
- Maintain and expand the district's green schoolyards program to 91 school sites;
- Explore methods for developing affordable housing for teachers.

SFUSD would create an independent citizens' oversight committee to report to the public about the use of bond funds. The Board of Education would also conduct an annual, independent audit regarding the use of the bond funds.
