There are many skills that students need in order to learn to read. If a grade 2 student is not yet reading at Level C, then a teacher may choose to assess the Foundational Skills of reading. This information helps let a teacher know a child’s areas of strength and need in learning to read. As your child masters these Foundational Skills, the teacher will then assess your child’s reading using the Benchmark Reading Assessment.