Mayor Ed Lee, Incoming SFUSD Superintendent Richard Carranza and SF Students Rally at City Hall for Summer Learning

WHAT
More than 500 low-income students from across San Francisco will join Mayor Ed Lee and Richard Carranza at City Hall to mark National Summer Learning Day.

WHEN
Thursday, June 21, 2012 / 11:30 a.m. - 12:00 p.m.

WHERE
San Francisco City Hall Steps on Polk Street and Civic Center Plaza

WHO
- Mayor Ed Lee
- SFUSD Deputy Superintendent Richard Carranza
- SF Board of Supervisor Members
- City leaders from SF Rec & Park, DCYF, Housing Authority, and San Francisco Youth Commission
- San Francisco students enrolled in summer learning programs, and their parents
- Local summer learning experts

WHY
San Francisco Summer Learning Day will demonstrate San Francisco’s commitment to ensuring that all youth have access to meaningful summer learning opportunities. Far too many San Francisco youth lack access to summer learning programs and opportunities. Only 44% of youth in Kindergarten to Grad 8 in San Francisco will have access to a comprehensive summer program this year.

AUDIO/ VISUAL:
San Francisco students and their parents will take part in engaging hands-on learning activities designed to combat “summer learning loss” throughout Civic Center Plaza. Mayor Ed Lee and SFUSD officials will speak on efforts to combat summer learning loss.
